

Jacobs School of Medicine and Biomedical Sciences
University at Buffalo

University at Buffalo
School of Engineering and Applied Sciences

Vasculata 2026

University at Buffalo - SUNY

In collaboration with the University of Rochester

July 7-10, 2026

Special Lectures by:

Juan M. Melero-Martin, PhD, Boston Children's Hospital/Harvard Medical School

Gregory J. Bix, MD, PhD, FAHA, Tulane School of Medicine

Sessions:

- Vascular endothelial cells and mural cells in health and disease
- Inflammation, angiogenesis, and vascular remodeling
- Stem cell-driven vascular biology, vascular grafts, intercellular communication
- Endothelial dysfunction in cardiovascular, cerebrovascular, and other organ-specific pathologies

Plus:

- PhD, MD, MD/PhD student and postdoctoral trainee scholarships
- Poster sessions and Career Development sessions
- Workshops (3D printing, microfluidics, microscopy, -omics and bioinformatics)
- Affordable lodging in walking distance from the Jacobs School of Medicine

Co-Chairs:

B. Rita Alevriadou, PhD, University at Buffalo,
Department of Biomedical Engineering

Angela J. Glading, PhD, University of Rochester Medical Center,
Department of Pharmacology and Physiology

Marc Halterman, MD, PhD, FAHA, University at Buffalo, Department of Neurology

Save the date!!!

Abstracts due May 15, 2026
Early Bird Registration ends June 5, 2026

<https://navbo.org/vasculata>